JESSE M. FURMAN, United States District Judge:

Following up on several issues discussed during the final pretrial conference held on the record earlier today, the Court orders as follows:

- Based on a review of a sample of the jurors to whom Defendant objected, the Court concludes that the efficiencies gained by proceeding as it proposed — namely, beginning on Thursday with the sixty-nine jurors as to whom neither party objected and continuing with the jurors as to whom a party objects only if necessary — outweigh any conceivable prejudice to the Government. Attached to this Order is a list of the sixty-nine jurors as to whom there is no objection, all of whom will be summoned for oral voir dire Thursday.
- For the reasons stated during the conference, the Court concludes that there is no need to further randomize the already-randomized list of jurors. Accordingly, the Court will conduct oral voir dire in number order within each grouping — that is, first, from lowest number to highest number in the grouping of sixty-nine jurors as to whom there is no objection; and, if necessary, from lowest number to highest number in the grouping of forty-eight jurors as to which there is an objection from one side.
- In light of Defendant's objection, the Court will not inquire during voir dire about prospective jurors' vaccination status.

SO ORDERED.
